WE learn that, at the very pleasant "Social Evening" held at the Club Germania on Saturday last the opportunity was afforded to present the retiring Secretary, Mr F. Panizza, with a very handsome silver epergne, as a mark of esteem from the members of the Club. Mr Hoppius, the President, in making the presentation, alluded in very flattering terms to the services rendered by Mr Panizza during three years, and regretted that the Club was about to lose him, closing his speech with the good wishes of the members, as well as his own, for his future welfare; which was duly acknowledged in a few chosen words by Mr Patitiza. The piece of plate here referred to, which is from the design of a German gentleman in Canton, is one of the chastest and prettiest works of art we have seen for many a day. It combines the beauties of European art. so far as its design is concerned, with the characteristic peculiarities of Chinese workmanship. The feature of the epergne is its exquisitely-wrought shaft, which consists of a clump of open branches and leaves o bamboo. LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.

A meeting of the Legislative Council was held this afternoon (28th), H. E. the Governor presiding, and there were present the Chief Justice, Sir John Smale; the Attorney General, Hon. E. L. O'Malley; doubtless view with satisfaction the addithe Acting Colonial Secretary, Dr. Stewart; the Acting Treasurer, Hon. M. S. Tonnochy; and the following non-official members, -Hons, P. Ryrie, W. Keswick, and this meeting was to consider the jury list for 1881, but before doing so, as a matter Bills which the Attorney General had in his hand,—the Macao Extradition Bill and the Census Bill. These would be printed at once and discussed at the next meeting. It had been the custom as they were aware, and it had been the practice to consider the jury list with the Council doors closed, but he had often remarked to his hon. friends that for his own part he had no objection whatever to the jury list and the special jury list being discussed in public." In public meant and included of course in presence of the mombers of the Press. In a matter of this kind he was quite in the hands of the Council.

The Council made no sign of desiring the members of the Press to leave, and the jury list was then taken in hand.

The Chief Justice said that before the jury list was laid before the Council he thought that it would be convenient that he should read the substance of a letter which the Sheriff had written to him; as it contained a great deal of information which it would be well that they should all be in possession of before proceeding to consideration of the list. [His bordship then read a letter of which, although the Chief Justice was strongly of opinion that it ought to be handed to the Reporters, and published for the information of the public, and told the Acting Clerk of Councils so, we have, up to the hour of going to press, been unable to secure a copy. It was carried away by the Acting Private Secretary.]

His Lordship, continuing; said that he did not think that they had ever had such clear statement before as to the exact position of the jury list, and he had thought it only right that he should read it to this Assembly before they proceeded with special business which brought them here

Mr Ryrie remarked that there were two or three special jurors who had left the

Mr Andre, it was then observed, in the course of conversation, was leaving; M Coughtrie was going, and Mr Starkey had This left 80 special jurors on the list, as against 93 last year.

The Governor said with reference to one passage in the letter now before the Council that there were 14 names of Chinese out of a total of 493; he must at once remind the Council of what he had publicly said before Chung-hui mark-boat :-now, that he thought this very small proportion was a great evil. One of the main principles of trial by jury was that the prisoner should be tried by his peers, and the jury should therefore be of the same race as the person who was tried. It followed, as a matter of course from the constitution of mark-boat the breeze freshened, and Arie this community, that the Chinese, outnumbering the foreigners as they did, that the greater number of persons charged as criminals were Chinese and the greater proportion of the property that was disposed of or affected by the verdict of juries in civil cases were Chinese.

The Chief Justice : Quite so. The Governor continued that it was not stated how it came to pass, but they all knew how this state of things came about. Ariel, 12h. 26m.; Iris, not timed. They were sware that it was because the Ordinance provided that only those who sufficiently acquainted with the English language could not of course be summoned. He hoped in a few years that he would be at 3h. 58m. able to add considerably to the jury list, and, as education progressed, that they would acquire such a jury list as was to be found in other of Her Majesty's Colonies.

The Chief Justice said there was an hon. member present, the hon. member who specially represented the Chinese, who would be able to tell the Council whether any person was present who should be on the list. Mr Sangster had exercised cauwas right to put there; he had manifested and if the Shariff was wrong they had the bon gentlemen to put him right in this
